

Jonathan Gottzmann

PROFESSIONAL STATEMENT

Cybersecurity Is Important

STRENGTHS

Strong verbal and written communication skills, hardworking, dedicated to learning technical skills, and doing whatever it takes to succeed.

VALUES

Protecting people's private information and safeguarding Canada's information from threats, both foreign and domestic.

INTERESTS

I am most interested in cybersecurity to assist in protecting information from those with ill intentions. If we don't protect our country's information, we will face cyber attacks on our infrastructure. Hackers infiltrated our country's military website, and I want to help secure our infrastructure.

AUDIENCE

The audience for my professional statement is cybersecurity recruiters and government employers.

CONTRIBUTION

My strengths, values, and interests in cybersecurity will support the security goals of many organizations by ensuring clear communication during incident response, working tirelessly to stay ahead of evolving cyber threats, and applying my dedication to safeguarding sensitive information and critical infrastructure from malicious actors. By combining a strong commitment to continuous learning with a passion for protecting national and organizational security, I can contribute to building robust defense strategies against both internal and external threats.
